by MG Scientific

Are you operating in a large lab with dozens if not hundreds of supplies that are routinely required to support daily operations? Do you employ a manual process for identifying which supplies need to be ordered each week? Have you ever been surprised by a back-order issue associated with one or more of your critical supplies? If so, invenTRAK may be just what you need.

Inventory Control & Streamlined Delivery

Fully Automated, Bar Code Based Inventory Control Eliminates:

- Eliminates all paper based system and manual transcriptions
- Removes guess work on what supplies and quantities are required each week
- Helps laboratories optimize inventory levels and reduce cost
- Strengthens record keeping and increases accountability
- Does away with last minute rush orders for supplies that should be readily on hand
